Lawyers Confer On Mercy Plea For Mrs. Hughes

Final plans for the fight for the life of Mrs. Ida Hughes, convicted and sentenced to hang April 24 for the murder of her mother-in-law, Mrs. M. C. Hughes, were completed Friday afternoon at a conference between the doomed woman and her attorneys. An appeal for mercy will be heard by the Georgia prison commission at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning.

In the event a recommendation for mercy is refused by that body, the case will be taken directly to Governor Clifford Walker, Charles Wells, leading counsel for the defense announced.

The death-conference was held at the room in Fulton tower, where the woman has spent nearly two years of her life, while courts of the state have struggled with the case. It is the last such meeting before the matter goes to the prison commission, according to her lawyers.

Thousands of letters from all parts of the world will be before the commission when the case is called. One letter from the Philippine islands and written in Spanish was received Friday by attorneys. It begged Governor Walker to commute the sentence to life imprisonment, and cited many alleged mitigating circumstances.

Judge H. G. Howard, trial judge, has written a letter asking clemency, and four trial jurors have joined in the plea for the woman's life. No letter had been received from Solicitor John A. Boykin, of Tuscon superior court, up until a late hour Friday afternoon, it was reported.

Solicitor Boykin is expected to write a letter to the commission concerning the case.

Mr. Wells, H. A. Allen and John Echols attended the conference which was held with Mrs. Hughes Friday afternoon. They will lead the battle for her life next week.

Mrs. Hughes is sentenced to hang on her 25th birthday.

Omaha, Neb., April 3.—Madame Bernice de Pasquali, opera singer, died of pneumonia today at Lord Listers hospital here.

The diva was conscious up to the moment she died, telling her manager, Jay Clark, "I am afraid this is the end Clark, good-bye."

Mr. Clark will take the body east tonight and the singer will be buried near Boston.

Madame de Pasquali, before her marriage to Count Salvatore de Pasquali, was known as Bernice James. Her mother and one brother live in Boston. She was prima donna in the Metropolitan Opera company with Caruso for seven years, succeeding Sembrich.

Madame de Pasquali was taken ill while on tour with the Orpheum vaudeville circuit. She continued the tour since last December against the advice of physicians, arriving in Omaha, March 15, too ill to appear in public. She appeared at a matinee performance the next day but the day following was taken to the hospital.

ANTI-'DOPE' WAR BEGUN BY SNOOK

The famous federal prison baseball team will not be included in any inter-city or any other league outside the walls of the prison, and trustees who in the past have been allowed to go and come unguarded from the prison farm to the Atlanta prison, will be under the surveillance of guards, it became known Friday when it was learned that John W. Snook has clamped the lid down tight in a new war to exterminate alleged "dope traffic" at the institution.

"Every man at the institution is going to work, just what he was sent here to do," Mr. Snook said in verifying reports that the federal prison teams have been prohibited from playing ball off the premises of the institution.

and that stringent rules are now in force.

Other than verifying reports, gleaned Friday from discharged prisoners of the institution, that no packages will be received from the "outside" for prisoners, but that money only can be accepted and that this must be sent only to prisoners of the "A" grade, Mr. Snook declined to discuss the matter. All packages will be turned down, and money will be used to buy groceries and gifts for the prisoners of "A" rating. This will be done in blanket lots, and merchants from whom the goods are purchased will not know for whom they are being sought, it was announced. This will eliminate the possibility of smuggling the contraband into the prison through this channel, it is said.

Mr. Snook would not say whether the narcotic traffic had increased or whether there had been a decrease in recent months. It was learned that it is very difficult to tell, because it is used "under cover" and, therefore, hard to locate.

Approximately 700 men employed in the duck mills will work eight hours a day under the new rules, instead of six and seven hours as formerly, and the 2,962 inmates of the institution will be put to "hard labor" as their sentences call for, it was reported.

$1,000 SUBSCRIPTION MADE TO MEMORIAL

A subscription of $1,000 to the "Founders' Roll" of the Stone Mountain memorial was made Friday by Cape Fear chapter, U. D. C., of Wilmington, N. C., it was announced Friday.

The subscription was given "in memory of the brave men who fought and died at the battle of Fort Fisher, near Wilmington," it was stated by Mrs. T. E. Sprunt, president of the chapter, in a letter to the Stone Mountain Memorial association.

The association announced receipt of a resolution from the Montgomery, Ala., chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, expressing full confidence in the executive committee and assuring the committee of support of that chapter in a movement to carry on the memorial work.

It also was announced that Mrs. Hugh Miller, of Kansas City, president of the Missouri division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, has requested Hollins N. Randolph, president of the association, to address five Kansas City chapters at an early date.

Fulton county courthouse attaches Friday mourned the death of two honored and beloved associates—Harvey Hill, 51, leading Atlanta lawyer for more than a score of years, and James W. Stallings, 71, veteran attaché of ordinary's office of Fulton county. Both were laid to rest Friday afternoon, and business of the county halted while the dead men paid them last honors. Fulton county courts have suspended business for the remainder of the week.

Funeral services for Mr. Hill, who died Thursday morning at a private hospital at Stone Mountain, were held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church. Rev. M. Ashby Jones officiated and interment was at Oakland cemetery. Barclay & Brandon were in charge.

Scores of persons from all walks of life attended. Honorary escorts from the Atlanta Bar association, the Atlanta Lawyers club and the Atlanta Alumni Association of the Chi Phi fraternity were present.

Last services for Mr. Stallings, who was employed in the ordinary's office for more than a quarter of a century, were held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from the Wesley Memorial church. Rev. Marvin Williams, assisted by Rev. L. M. Twigg, officiated. Interment was at Greenwood cemetery, with J. Austin Dillon in charge.

SMOKE ABATEMENT TO BE DISCUSSED AT MEETING TODAY

Study of the best methods of fitting the proper kind of fuel to individual conditions, and to secure closer cooperation between dealers and consumers in an effort to lessen smoke in Atlanta, will be taken up at a meeting of local coal merchants, the smoke committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the Atlanta Smoke Abatement league, at a meeting scheduled for 9 o'clock this morning in the Chamber of Commerce building.

A. W. Jones, city smoke inspector, will explain how coal should be burned in order to obtain best results. Questions of how to buy, what to buy, and when to buy will be discussed by representatives of the various coal dealers and members of the other organizations.

REV. WADE BOGGS ARRIVES TO JOIN REVIVAL FORCES

Rev. Wade H. Boggs, pastor of Arsenal Hill Presbyterian church, Columbia, S. C., is in Atlanta at the invitation of the Central Presbyterian church, Atlanta.

REV. WADE BOGGS.

tation of Dr. B. R. Lacy, Jr., and members of Central Presbyterian church to conduct their revival services during next week. He will deliver the sermons at both the morning and night services Sunday and preach every night during the coming week except Saturday.

Mr. Boggs is one of the leading civic workers of Columbia, S. C. He has long been a member and officer in the Rotary club, and thoroughly believes in the slogan: "They profit most who serve best." In addition to his many other religious and civic activities, he also conducts a Bible study class every Sunday morning in one of the largest hotels in Columbia. Through this work he has become nationally known among the traveling fraternity.

NOTED BIBLE TEACHER HERE FOR MEETINGS

If the orthodox Christian church is to be saved from the forces of evil it will be the church people of the south who will do it. Dr. William Evans, internationally known Bible teacher and writer, declared Friday. Dr. Evans is in Atlanta to conduct a series of Bible study classes at the North Avenue Presbyterian church all next week. He is a widely-known Bible teacher, having twice toured the world teaching the finer points of the Scriptures.

"In the north, the east, the west, and all over the world, I find there is less interest in the affairs of the soul than ever before," said Dr. Evans. "But quite on the other hand, I find that in the south, there is an awakening."

Dr. Evans invites people of every denomination to come to the North Avenue church during the week to study with him. He will speak twice daily, once in the afternoon and once at night.

Benson Is Found To Be Costello, Escaped Convict

Although Prue Benson, an escaped state prisoner, assumed his new name and came to Atlanta after his escape from prison, commission officials Friday discovered that his prison name was Joseph Costello and that he had three more years to serve on his term.

Benson was convicted in Fulton county on an additional charge and in committing him to prison under the name of Benson, V. L. Stauffer, garden clerk of the prison commission discovered his identity and the prisoner will now have to serve both sentences before he is given his liberty.

Benson was serving a sentence of from four to five years when he escaped. He came to Atlanta and later was arrested on a charge of stealing an automobile. He was convicted April 1, and sentenced to serve from three to five years on the new charge. Under the name of Costello the prisoner was sentenced on a burglary charge in Henry county.

Chicago Lecturer Defends Principle Of Reincarnation

That we have lived many lives on earth before, and that we shall come back to incarnation again and again, was the position taken by J. W. Rogers of Chicago, national president of the American Theosophical Society, Friday night at the Chamber of Commerce hall.

"If souls are a sudden creation and the poet is born and the murderer is born, what becomes of the justice of God?" said Mr. Rogers. "If souls are a first creation and the genius is born and the idiot is born, where is the mercy of God? If human beings are created at birth and millions of the bad are born, when the good could as well have been born, where is the goodness of God? The idea that we are suddenly called into existence at birth is utterly absurd. It would make a divine, compassionate intelligence responsible for all the stupendous inequalities of human life and opportunity. The only logical escape from such an impossible position is the hypothesis of reincarnation. We have our choice of reincarnation or chaos."

The subject of the lecture was "The Rebirth of the Soul." Mr. Rogers will speak again at 8:15 o'clock tonight on "The Supermen." These lectures are free to the public.

J. T. SPEER DIRECTS LUNCHEON PROGRAM
J. T. Speer, prominent Atlanta business man, was in charge of a special musical and entertainment program at the luncheon-meeting Friday of the American Business-club, of Atlanta, at the Peacock cafe. The meeting was largely attended.

3 MEN ARRESTED FOR AMBUSH SHOTS

Pembroke, Ga., April 3.—Three men have been arrested in connection with the shooting late yesterday of County Officers H. A. Griffith and E. S. Weir, who were shot from ambush. Charlie Priester, who lives about half a mile from the scene of the shooting, and two negroes are being held on suspicion. They are in jail here. The arrests were made by Sheriff Bell and special deputies.

OFFICERS SEARCHING FOR ASSAILANT

Savannah, April 3.—Sheriff Bell, of Bryan county and special deputies are today at the scene of the shooting of County Officers H. A. Griffith and E. S. Weir looking for a clue that might lead to the discovery of the identity of the person who shot these officers from ambush yesterday afternoon.

A negro has been arrested in connection with the shooting. He is being held in Bryan county. Officers do not believe he did the shooting, but are holding him to learn if he can give information about it that might help them in their search. It was learned today that when the men were fired upon from ambush they carried a bloodhound in the machine with them. The animal was used in running down moonshiners. Griffith and Weir are resting quietly in a local hospital.

Griffith was already hurt in one eye and a shot lodging in the other eye destroyed his sight completely. Both men were literally peppered in the back with No. 4 shot and Weir received a load of about 20 of the shot in his left side and arm. Several of the shot also lodged in his head. The men were brought to Savannah on the Seaboard Air Line railway last night from Pembroke, arriving here at 10:35 o'clock. They were able to walk with assistance and were taken to the Savannah hospital, where a careful examination of their wounds was made.

Neither man is fatally hurt, the cause for great anxiety being that whether Griffith will lose the entire sight of his eye.

Moonshiners Blamed.

Griffith and Weir had been down in the Ways Station district of Bryan county on business and were returning home just before dark. Without warning they were fired on from the bushes on the roadside. The men jumped out of the car and ran, but were located by moonshiners, but found no trace of them. They were too badly wounded to drive the car and walked to the nearest house and were driven to Pembroke.

The alarm was given and the citizens of Pembroke organized and went in search of the would-be assassins. Bloodhounds were put out to track Chatham and Bulloch counties and were sent.

It is believed the shooting was done by moonshiners who suspected the officers were on their trail.

present the street is only 20 feet from curb to curb.

"The project, while one of the cheapest, is one of the greatest improvements in the history of the city through in the city of Atlanta," Councilman White said. "It will provide another connecting link between north and south sides, and the property owners will reap the benefit of the improvement. Property owners, of course, will be assessed in proportion to benefit."

file to be received by the improvement.

The taxing area was recommended by a commission composed of Mr. White, Joseph M. Cori, Robert O. and Councilman R. F. Pennington.

McCord is First Speaker.

Mr. McCord was the first speaker at the meeting Friday. He told of the many advantages to be derived from widening and extension of the street, and said that property values would be doubled and trebled by the improvement. Investments of property owners will be returned doubled within a year, he prophesied.

Mr. McCord explained that he had been at work on the project for more than a year, obtaining necessary property and working out plans for the assessment zone, and so was thoroughly familiar with the situation.

A number of street contracts were scheduled to be awarded by the committee Friday, but were postponed until an adjourned meeting set for 10 o'clock this morning.

JURY DEADLOCKED ON CHAPMAN'S FATE

ings that they were not yet able to say whether the skinny little fellow was the one who shot and killed Policeman Skelly.

Jury Goes to Hotel.

Judge Jennings then told them that inasmuch as they had a full day in the stuffy confinement of the jury room, they might be better able to reach a decision after a night's sleep. Accordingly, the jurors were marshalled into single file and conducted from the court to their hotel where they were locked up under guard.

Chapman was not brought into the courtroom for any of the three appearances of the jurors after they reached the hotel. But his lawyers established themselves into a corps of dispatch bearers from the courtroom to the dungeon and kept him informed.

Chapman Closely Guarded.

Five minutes after the jurors filed down the front steps of the old brick building and through a grove of trees to the hotel, Chapman was escorted out of the courtroom by a police officer and taken to the rear alley by enough policemen and wardens from Wethersfield state prison to handle a rogue elephant. A sedan motor stood in the alley, with the interior light flooding the tunnel. Two files of policemen formed two blue walls of beef from the dungeon doors to the door of the car. Two motorcycle policemen straddled their machines in front of the sedan and two others stood ready to ride to the rear of the car.

The two files of policemen suddenly produced flashlights and turned the rays into the path.

Chapman Is Manacled.

When all these preparations had been completed, a group of big men emerged from the basement and stepping along in their midst, with one wrist manacled to the huge arm of a detective, Gerald Chapman appeared. As he got into the car and sat in the upholstery, two members of the rolling escort squeezed down beside him. He almost disappeared from view.

Then with a wild shriek of horns and put-putting of motorcycle engines, Gerald Chapman whirled away through the crowd, past the coffee factory which stands adjacent to the courtroom and back to Wethersfield, like Governor Smith rolling down the highway under the governor's escort of New York police.

Chapman brought three witnesses to court to swear to his claim that he wasn't in the state of Connecticut at all after nightfall, but Lyle Chastene, the one who saw most in his behalf, is an ex-convict, and it happens, was Chapman's nurse in the prison hospital at Atlanta when Chapman escaped from there in 1923 with 23 years and a bit still to serve.

Question Cheers Groehl.

Frederick Groehl, the New York lawyer who fought for Chapman night and day in his trial, obviously took cheer from the jury's interest in the time factor, but the situation was too tense for him to venture any jubilation about it.

Osborne Wood and Captain of His Boat

Osborne C. Wood Shucks His Coat And Goes to Work

Tampa, Fla., April 3.—Osborne C. Wood today turned his back on his splendid trial. He took off his coat and went to work as a member of the sales force of a local real estate company in an effort to regain his fortune on what he termed "legitimate grounds."

The son of Major General Leonard Wood, governor-general of the Philippines, in other words has awakened. The wild oats he sowed, he said, have yielded him only shame. For the sake of his father and his own children he stated today that he was going to work and work hard in order to live down the name of ignominy and disgrace.

Newspapersmen who met him here last Tuesday when he arrived from Cadiz, Spain, have been constantly in touch with Wood. They, too, believe that he is sincere.

The idea of getting back the millions he squandered in four months in France through his Wall Street broker, has been discarded, Wood stated.

A $50,000 bona fide contract with a moving picture company located on the west coast was formally rejected today on the grounds that an effort was being made to capitalize on his splendid trial activities.

"I want to get away from all this publicity," Wood is quoted as saying, "and I want to convince my friends that I am sincere in my efforts to go to work. I feel that I could regain what I have foolishly squandered by again speculating in stocks. But I don't want to be branded as a gambler in the future nor do I care to make such a reflection cast on my children."

"Money earned by hard work is not only honestly earned but not easily spent," he continued, "I feel that if I buckle down and work, I will not only get back some of the money I have squandered, but regain the respect of my friends, which is, indeed more than money can buy."

D. P. Davis, president of the realty company employing Wood, announced this morning that "there is one thing I would like to see in the future. There was no need for such a thing. We have less than 40 lots and should dispose of them by Saturday."

"From my conversation with Mr. Wood I have come to the conclusion that he is a very much improved young man. He has told me, and I believe him sincere, that he is seeking an opportunity to recoup his fortunes through legitimate business, rather than through stock speculations."

"I know of no better place to find such an opportunity than right here in Florida. No one state in the union offers to young men the possibilities for accumulating fortunes in so short a time. Mr. Wood realized this when he accepted my offer. From now on, it's up to him."

SUIT AGAINST ULLMAN SETTLED OUT OF COURT

New York, April 3.—The breach of promise suit brought by Miss Florence Reddington, professional nurse, against Isaac M. Ullman, congressman and republican leader, of New Haven, Conn., was discontinued in the supreme court today after Ullman informed Judge Grover that a settlement had been reached.

Ullman informed Judge Grover that a settlement had been reached. Counsel for neither side would disclose the terms of the settlement.

Miss Reddington in her complaint charged that Col. Ullman broke his promise to marry her and that he was the father of her 4-year-old son.

Ola Woods Is Dead.

Funeral services for Ola Woods, colored, who died Tuesday night, were held Thursday from the West Mitchell C. M. E. church. Interment was in Woodlawn cemetery. She and her husband, John, had been servants in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Waddy Thompson, of 23 Waller terrace, since their marriage in 1901 and they survived funeral arrangements.

Started up quickly at the sound of Groehl's voice.

Nathan Freedman, a Hartford lawyer associated with Groehl in the defense of Chapman, made a perfunctory complaint to the court just before the jury retired. Alcorn had referred to the fact that "Chapman, the murderer, had the audacity to set up his bootlegging center at Holyoke, Mass., within 10 miles of 'the humble home of the president of the United States.'"

On this ground, Freedman asked that the case be taken from the jury at once and a mistrial declared, but he was overruled.

He made the same demand in view of Alcorn's unqualified use of the word "murderer," and he said after ward that Chapman, if convicted, would base his appeal on these matters.

Mighty Naval Seadogs Leave Upon Cruise of Five Months

96 SHIPS OF THE LINE STEAM OUT IN PACIFIC

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

San Pedro, Cal., April 3.—The United States fleet moved out of southern California waters today to the north as the most magnificent and powerful concentration of American sea power ever assembled on the Pacific coast.

Multitudes assembled to witness the naval pageant. The mightiest of these seadogs of war, the super-dreadnaughts, were at their anchorages in the naval base here when over the distant horizon to the south a slim line peaked up. It was the main body of lighter forces from San Diego, scout cruisers, destroyers and submarines together with their tenders, oilers and supply ships. They started on their one maneuvering, the deployment and fitting together of two great naval forces, forming a sea parade, the greatest ever witnessed from these shores.

The dreadnaught Wyoming lifted its mudhocks and moved out to direct its units. The Wyoming is flagship of the scouting fleet from the Atlantic, which includes eight scout cruisers and the destroyers and submarine divisions.

The pride of Uncle Sam at sea then got under way as the main battle line, the dreadnaughts of the battle fleet of the Pacific, churning up the harbor water en route to San Francisco, then the Hawaiian Islands and Australia for a five-months' cruise.

There were 96 ships of the line in the naval procession, the lookouts from the marine observation posts reported, when the two forces joined under the command of Admiral Robert E. Conz, aboard the flagship Seattle.

As the naval forces moved past the coast of the state of California, here, the air assumed the aspect of a beehive, a flock of army airplanes rising above the coast defenses and over the fleet. The army aviators nosed, went into tail spins, cruised, speeded and cut all sorts of capers as the armada moved out.

The previous month was noted today by the interstate commerce commission on the basis of reports from class one carriers.

The total number of railroad workers employed during the month was 1,728,333, while during December the number was 1,736,699. The total cost of the month was $243,323,868, while for December it was $241,348,652.

OTTO BRAUN ELECTED PREMIER OF PRUSSIA

Berlin, April 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—Otto Braun, who was the socialist candidate for president of the Reichstag, was elected premier of Prussia today.

Of the 432 votes cast, Herr Braun received 220, four votes more than was required for election.

4 OIL INDICTMENTS QUASHED BY JUDGE

discouraged and that the ruling was purely a technical point. An immediate appeal will be taken and, if this fails to overturn Justice McCoy's new indictments will be brought.

This case has no connection whatever with the civil cases to break the Teapot Dome lease, which is now pending in court at Cheyenne, Wyo. That action is not affected in any way by the quashing of the bribery and conspiracy charges here.

What Indictments Charged.

The four indictments quashed charged:

1—That Albert B. Fall with accepting a bribe from E. L. Doherty.

2—Doherty with giving a bribe to Fall.

3—Fall and Doherty with conspiracy to defraud the government in leasing the California reserves.

4—Fall and Harry F. Sinclair with conspiracy to defraud the government in leasing the Teapot Dome reserve.

Members of Sinclair's legal staff suggested that the three-year statute of limitations might prevent resurrection of the bribery charges, if the court were upheld on the appeal. However, there is a six-year statute of limitation on conspiracies to defraud the government, and two of the indictments might be brought here.

The transactions complained of occurred in 1921. The bribery indictments grew out of E. L. Doherty's admission before the senate Teapot Dome investigating committee that he sent Fall $100,000 in cash to Washington in a little black satchel by his son, E. L. Doherty, Jr., whose indictment is also affected by McCoy's ruling.

The Fall-Sinclair conspiracy charge grows out of the allegations that Teapot Dome was leased to Sinclair secretly after a conference between them, and that the lease was made illegally by collusion.

Sinclair raised several other technical grounds on which he sought dismissal of the charges but these were not sustained—one of them was that Sinclair brought J. Walsh, who conducted the senate's investigation, delivered a radio speech on the Teapot Dome affair while the grand jury was in session. Sinclair held that as a majority of the grand jury members had received sets in their homes, this speech of Walsh's constituted an attempt to influence the grand jury.

It is almost an impossibility to adequately describe all the wonders of this wonderful play and wonderful cast.

Dainty, Fascinating Mitzi.

(Coming to the Atlanta.)

Mitzi will come to the Atlanta theater next Monday night for a week's engagement, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday, in "The Magic Ring," the fantastic musical comedy in which this charming little comedienne has the best role of her career. As a young organ grinder, Mitzi enacts a modern Cinderella of the New York streets. Magic and a wishing ring give an Arabian Night flavor to the little heroine's adventures, and she attends a sumptuous party where her singing and dancing are the sensation of the evening. "The Magic Ring" has a novel plot, with thrills as well as music and merriment. The box office at the Atlanta theater will be open from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Tickets may also be had at the "Ask Mr. Foster" Service at M. Rich & Bros. Co. store.

"Sackcloth and Scarlet."

(At the Howard.)

Alice Terry in "Sackcloth and Scarlet," a late Paramount release, is to be seen at the Howard for the last time today. The story is from a well-known book, with a star cast including the screen portraying the leading role. Many thrilling scenes mingled with plenty of romance give "Sackcloth and Scarlet" a record of being one of the season's best pictures. Watson's Eight Bellhops will also be seen on the stage, presenting some novel and unique jazz numbers. Other features will complete the program.

"Lighthouse" Closes Run.

(Today at the Rialto.)

Rin-Tin-Tin, the wonder dog of the screen, who appears in "The Light House by the Sea," a Warner Bros. classic of the screen, ending its run at the Rialto theater today was educated to follow through a house for searching purposes; to face firearms and weapons of war; to climb up and down stairs; to run into alleys, behind houses and into the innumerable places where the human eye cannot follow him without artificial light, the better to outwit his pursuers who he would out-distance or elude those who would hamper his dash to safety.

"Kiki."

(At the Lyric.)

Following a number of unusually good offerings at the Lyric theater the presentation there this week of "Kiki," one of the most famous comedies of recent years is a fitting celebration of the third anniversary of the Lyric Players' organization. "Kiki," as presented by the company has all the elements that made it the talk of Broadway some two seasons ago. Miss Helen Joy takes the part of the vivacious little Parisian who gives the play its name, while Fred Raymond is seen in a role that is almost as important as the leading one.

Jan Rubini.

(At Keith's Forsyth.)

Jan Rubini and Mile. Diane, Americanized French comedienne, are proving their right to the headlining honors at Keith's Forsyth theater. In the last three days of this week in their act that is a colorful cycle of music, songs and dances that are distinctly of a headlining variety.

"See America First."

(Tops Loew's Grand.)

Bill Adams apparently built his merry musical revue, "See America First," for the express purpose of pleasing Atlanta and other southern audiences. His chorus of pretty girls in popular songs and dances carries the crowds in fancy all around the United States, giving them a glimpse of styles in north, west and east, but presenting the Georgia girl in lovely frocks that have made feminine on-lookers gasp at the combination of beauty with modesty. Ponzini's monkey acrobats open the unusually strong vaudeville program, which includes five Loew vaudeville acts. "Chu Chin Chow" is the chief screen feature.

Senator Gentleman Invites Wheeler To Cider Party

Madison, Wis., April 3.—State Senator Ben Gettelman, Milwaukee, who recently told a senate committee that he was technically violating the state dry act by making wine in his home, has issued an invitation to wine and dry advocates to attend a "fruit juice and cider" party at his residence April 18.

The senator, sponsor of a bill to modify the Severeon state dry act by abolishing the penalty for the manufacture of light beverages for exclusive home consumption, issued his invitation after he had read newspaper statements by a Milwaukee dry leader doubting that Gettelman's wine was as strong as he advertised.

"If he will attend this function he will be surprised," Senator Gettelman said. Wayne B. Wheeler, head of the national Anti-Saloon league, will be extended a special invitation, the senator said.

Herman Bilgier, of Iron Ridge, one of two other senators rated as wets who were asked to assist in serving the refreshments, accepted and told Senator Gettelman he also made wine in his home, quoting the Bible as authority for the drinking of wine for health's sake.

Judge Watkins To Speak To Decatur Bible Class On Juvenile Delinquency

Decatur, Ga., April 3.—(Special.) Garland M. Watkins, judge of the juvenile court of Atlanta, will address the men's Bible class of the First Methodist church here at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

The address was announced today by Dr. J. L. McGhee, teacher of the class. Judge Watkins will speak on "Juvenile Delinquency—Its Causes and Its Remedies."

An effort to have all the adult Bible classes of the Sunday school here at the lecture is being made, as Judge Watkins is regarded as an authority on his subject. It is also said that several representatives of other Bible classes will attend the lecture in order that they may carry reports of the lecture back to their classes.

A brief resume of the work of the Atlanta juvenile court and a justification for the mental, physical and moral of all the spiritual education of delinquents will be continued in the address. The work of the court and its scope will be given special mention.

CUBA'S NEXT PRESIDENT WILL VISIT COOLIDGE

Havana, Cuba, April 3.—General Gerardo Machado, the president-elect of Cuba, will visit President Coolidge at the white house on April 15, the day he will arrive in Washington.

Announcement was also made that the general and his wife, with their party, will accept an invitation to have breakfast with President Coolidge on April 16.

El Mundo, a Machado supporter, says this morning that the president-elect's cabinet will be: President, Viriato Gutierrez; state, Carlos Manuel de Cespedes (incumbent); justice, Jesus Maria Barraque; treasury, Enrique Hernandez; interior, Antonio Riquelme; education, Dr. Manuel de la Torre.

El Mundo says this morning that Don Rafael Sanchez Aballil will be named ambassador to the United States at the retirement of Dr. Cosme de la Torre.

Sanchez Aballil is a mining engineer and attended Lehigh university at Bethlehem, Pa.

Record Throngs Expected At "Home Beautiful" Sunday

PREPARATIONS MADE TO ACCOMMODATE HUGE CROWDS

While police Friday prosecuted relentless efforts of Police Chief E. L. Jett to enforce all traffic ordinances and regulations with the view of preventing accidents, three persons were injured in auto accidents during the day—only one of which was reported at police station.

The two who were hurt, concerning which accidents, no reports have been filed at headquarters, are G. R. Norwood, who lives on Luckie street, and Jesse Vollrath, 211 Pearl street. Both were treated at the Grady hospital Friday morning.

Norwood, according to surgeons at the hospital, said he was thrown from the motor truck in which he was riding as another car crashed into the truck from the rear. Just where the collision occurred is not shown on the hospital records.

Norwood's injuries consist of minor bruises and lacerations.

Little definite information, Volrath told hospital attaches that he was struck down by an automobile, but did not state where the accident took place. His injuries are not serious.

A negro, whose identity police have not learned, was injured at Forsyth and Poplar streets, by an automobile driven by Officers T. R. Mann and R. P. Eolds.

The accident, which occurred at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, could not be located by police officers. The car, the report at headquarters sets forth, The negro is said to have attempted to cross Forsyth street, and was struck by a car.

The injured negro was put in the auto which ran into him and carried to Grady hospital. Doctors said he was not dangerously hurt.

Twenty-eight motorists Friday were charged with speeding; 18 with reckless driving and 21 with violating the traffic ordinances.

McClure Improves.

Sterling R. McClure, 18-year-old son of C. W. McClure, of Elizabeth street, who with P. M. Mahoney, who lives on Juniper street, was injured last Tuesday night at the time Arthur P. Burke, Jr., 51, North Boulevard was killed when the McClure car crashed into a telephone pole at Peachtree and Spring streets, Friday rallied from his spinal cord injuries and doctors attending him were more hopeful for an early recovery.

A beautiful bouquet of roses from the father of the young man who was killed greeted young McClure as he awoke from the stupor that accompanied his concussion on the night of the wreck.

One of the first requests young McClure made of his father was that he help find the missing mother of the boy who was killed in the wrecked car to the Davis-Fischer hospital.

JUDGE SENTENCES FORMER SING "DEATH HOUSER"

New York, April 3.—Herman Muller, known as "Death Houser" at Sing Sing, because during an eight-year term it was his job to carry corpses from the electric chair to the autopsy room, received a four-month sentence today for stealing surgical instruments.

Churches Prepare To Take New Members Into Rolls In Revival Series Sunday

Installation of New Converts To Feature Services—New Churches Begin Campaign Sunday.

With the second Sunday in Atlanta's greatest revival, in which more than 90 churches are participating, close at hand, pastors of more than a score of churches are preparing to set aside the Sunday services for the purpose of installing new members who have signified intention of joining the churches during the first two weeks of the revival.

Special welcoming services are planned for the reception of the new members who number upwards of 2,000 persons in all the churches and of whom many hundreds will be received Sunday.

Several churches in the big group are planning to discontinue regular services on Sunday after a two-week series, others are planning a week of revival meetings to terminate on Easter Sunday.

Many Special Meetings.
Special meetings are in progress in nearly every church participating and their success has been phenomenal. Dr. S. R. Bell, at Grace Methodist church, preached Friday night to young people, using as his sermon theme, "The Teen Age," and Charlie D. Tillman also took part in the service.

A young people's mass meeting was held at Martha Brown Memorial Methodist church Friday night, where Rev. Neal A. White, pastor in charge, is conducting the revival services. The congregation at Stewart Avenue Methodist church, where Rev. J. W. Brinsfield is pastor-evangelist, has been in the greatest revival ever known, during the past two weeks. More than 40 persons have united with the church membership, and the entire church has been profoundly revived.

On Sunday morning the new members will be received into full fellowship in the church.

St. Paul's Methodist.
At the St. Paul's Methodist church, where Rev. L. Wilkie Collins is pastor-evangelist, revival efforts will continue through all next week. On Easter Sunday the members will be received into full fellowship in the church.

No special efforts have yet been made at the Payne Memorial Methodist church to secure new members for the church roll, but nine persons have voluntarily united with the church. Rev. W. J. DeBardeleben, pastor-evangelist, conducted a special service Friday night for the benefit of Boy Scouts.

Rev. Wallace Rogers will begin special revival services at Trinity Methodist church next Sunday morning.

SALE OF PASSELS HALTED BY COURT

Washington, April 3.—Conclusion of the sale of the Dollar interests of the Pacific Mail Steamship company's California-Orient line was blocked temporarily today in the District of Columbia supreme court. Granting a petition of the Pacific Mail, Justice Hitt issued temporary injunction against the shipping board and set April 13 for hearing arguments on making the order permanent.

Regardless of the outcome of this hearing, extended litigation is in prospect, with the probability that the supreme court of the United States will have an opportunity to pass upon provisions of the merchant marine act of 1920 before the case is ended. This will subject the act to judicial decision for the first time. Meanwhile, the Pacific Mail will continue to operate the five shipping vessels at stake in the service from San Francisco to Manila, unless the board should take action to terminate the operating contract entered into more than four years ago. Chairman O'Connor of the board declared today he personally would be in favor of terminating that contract if the injunction was made permanent.

Commenting upon that statement, former Senator George E. Chamberlain, of Oregon, counsel for the Pacific Mail, interpreted it as a willingness to drive the Pacific Mail out of business in any case. He would not say what legal steps, if any, might be taken if the board should adopt such a course. The action of the Pacific Mail in resorting to court proceedings was taken as the result of the rejection of the sale of the ships to the Dollar interests by a four to three vote in the board, which had been wrenched over the objection of the stormiest controversies it has experienced in years. The controversy has involved questions of government shipping policy, a fight between competing shipping interests, and has been characterized with sensational charges that a monopoly was being developed on the Pacific coast.

JOHN HOLDER LOSES FIGHT IN BIBB COURT

An indefinite period. The weight of citations was that the governor had the power to remove from office an appointee holding an indefinite term office, but that where the specific term was set in the statute creating the office, the appointee could only be removed through the legislative proceedings instituted in the legislature.

In the amendment to the highway law, passed in 1921, it is stated that the governor shall appoint, and the senate confirm, the chairman for such stipulations of the original act. Judge Jones took the view that this did not constitute an appointment for a specific term and on this opinion based his ruling.

Attorney Strozzer, for the defense, in explaining the involved legal situation, gave a reception in honor of the Michigan men in the state building, immediately following the debate.

BAKING COMPANY ROOF IS DAMAGED BY BLAZE FRIDAY

The roof of the one-story building which houses the ovens of the F. Stone Baking company, on Highland avenue, was damaged Friday afternoon by flames that threatened the entire building for a time.

City Fireman George Tumlin, of 25 Euclid terrace, severely strained the ligaments of a leg and arm while fighting the flames and had to be taken to the Grady hospital for treatment. A defective flue was given as the cause.

Mr. Stone said that the operations of his plant would not be affected. He could give no estimate of the loss. A blaze in the white clinic of the Grady hospital Friday morning was the cause of considerable excitement.

The fire, which consisted of waste cotton in a receptacle in the clinic, catching from a lighted cigarette, was put out before flames arrived. The smoke, however, filled the clinic section of the building.

WILL DAM FLOW OF RIVER SHANNON FOR POWER PLANT

Dublin, April 3.—The dam has approved the water power project to harness the River Shannon. After assurance from the government that the Siemens-Schuckert company would have the project, opposition members abstained from voting and the development measure was passed. The cost of the project will be in the neighborhood of $20,000,000.

Courthouse Janitor Gets Face Badly Burned When Boiler Explodes

Jack McIntyre, negro janitor, was painfully burned about the face and neck late Friday, from an explosion in the boiler room of the courthouse. He was rushed to Grady hospital by County Policeman Jack Carroll.

The explosion in the down-draft boiler was caused from an accumulation of gas in the front furnace, which detonated as it reached the air, similar to the backfire in the exhaust pipe of an automobile, according to F. E. Eaves, engineer in charge of the courthouse boiler room.

Appointed for Six Years

He argued that, under the wording of the law, there could be no question that Mr. Holder was appointed for the specific term of six years, beginning January 1, 1922, and that the fact that he was an officer holder for a specific period and not subject to removal by the governor, either for cause or without, the governor had no authority to pass on the charges made against Mr. Holder, said Mr. Smith, which duty rested solely in the legislature. Hugh Dorsey, closing for the plaintiff, recapitulated the general argument and stated that while Mr. Holder could be subject to impeachment or process of law in the courts, the governor had no power to either try or condemn him.

B. S. Deaver, of Macon, made the closing argument for the defense. He contended that membership and chairmanship of the highway board were necessarily two separate things, inasmuch as a chairman might wish to resign the chairmanship but retain membership on the board.

In making the opening argument, Attorney Strozzer stated that his clients contended that the governor has the right to remove any executive appointed officer of the state government, even without making specific charges and without notice or hearing.

Governor Is Responsible.
The governor, said Strozzer, is charged with the responsibility of the state government and it is part of his duty as chief executive officer to see that all executive duties of the state are properly performed. He declared that the clause in the constitution giving the governor the power in warding with the corresponding clause in the federal constitution setting forth the powers and duties of the president, both reading that "He shall take care that the laws are executed."

Mr. Strozzer then read a lengthy opinion from the United States supreme court which held, in a case where the president has the right to remove executive officers from office.

Holder Given Notice.
Mr. Strozzer claimed, however, that whether or not the governor had the power to remove an executive officer without cause, he did have the right when proper cause was assigned and the accused officer had been given an opportunity to be heard in his own defense. He claimed that this had been done in this case and stated that Governor Walker first notified Mr. Holder of the charges lodged against him in the Dawson report, on March 9. On the same date, said the attorney, Mr. Holder notified the governor he did not consider the Dawson report an audit and "had nothing to say." By this action, Mr. Strozzer claimed, Mr. Holder waived his right to hearing.

Removal Called Duty.
"The governor certainly has the right to revoke the commission of an officer charged with serious offenses after a hearing, and when Mr. Holder refused to comment on the charges it was then strictly up to the governor to remove him from office," said the attorney.

Mr. Holder was present in court throughout the hearing and was visibly affected when the decision, adverse to his cause, was made. W. T. Anderson, of Macon, one of the defendant members of the board, was also present, but S. S. Bennett, of Quitman, the other defendant, was not in Macon.

Mr. Bennett, brother to S. S. Bennett, attorney to Governor Walker, attended the hearing, being subpoenaed as a witness in regard to the confirmation of Mr. Holder by the senate. He was also present in the state senate, was also present with a copy of the senate records, but neither witness was called on.

His husband, in court, seated beside her, for the greater part of the day, but was not there when the decision was announced.

BARBER AWARDED $98,000 ROYALTIES ON HAIR CLIPPER

St. Louis, April 3.—Edward F. Ponath, barber shop proprietor, late today was awarded more than $98,000 royalties by Federal Judge E. A. Tamm against the Racine Manufacturing company for manufacture and sale of electrical hair clippers, invented by Ponath 15 years ago.

Ponath charged that the company broke its contract to pay him $1 each on the first 10,000 sales and $1.50 on additional sales. Company interests alleged Ponath's invention was not a new invention, but a mere improvement on a device already in use, as a clause provided that the instrument became void if not manufactured within a year after the contract.

after which he toured the principal countries of Europe.

Following a brilliant engagement at the Paris opera, lasting six years, De Reszke resumed his tours and reached the zenith of his career in the Metropolitan opera house in New York. Music critics considered that while equalling the best Italian tenors in purely vocal effects he surpassed them as an interpretive artist.

His impersonations of the leading Wagnerian characters were excellent. After retiring from the stage, De Reszke devoted himself to teaching and pupils from all over the world, particularly the United States, were tutored by him. Many stars of the operatic stage and the concert platform owe much to his ability as a teacher.

WAR BUDGET ADOPTED BY ITALIAN DEPUTIES
Rome, April 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—The chamber of deputies today adopted without discussion the budget of the ministry of war.

The bill of War Minister General di Giorgio, providing for army reforms, did not figure in the vote. The fact that Signor di Giorgio was not present during the process of adopting his ministry's budget was taken as confirmation of the reality of his resignation, although no official announcement of it had been made up to early this afternoon.

Rome dispatches Thursday night quoted Rome newspapers as announcing General di Giorgio's resignation. Action on his army reform bill, which measure had been strongly criticized by Italy's most prominent military leaders, was postponed yesterday on request of Premier Mussolini, who said a revised measure would be presented later after the whole question of additional defense had been studied from a technical and not a political viewpoint.

It was taken, he explained, as the Di Giorgio measure threatened to become a political measure.

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 3.—R. W. Mitchner, general superintendent of the Nickel Plate railroad, who was stricken with heart disease en route to this city in his private car from Cleveland, died here tonight.

ADVANCE IS SEEN IN CATTLE PRICES
Chicago, April 3.—Prices of cattle are on the up-grade and shortly will make substantial advances, giving increased returns to cattle raisers, Dr. David Friday, of the Brookings School of Political Economy, Washington, D. C., said in testifying today before William A. Disque, examiner for the interstate commerce commission. The hearing is being conducted to determine whether freight rates, as represented by cattle dealers, are so high that cattle cannot be raised profitably.

Dr. Friday, who spent several months making a survey of the situation for the railroad, contended that depression in the cattle industry is inevitable and that it occurs regularly every nine or ten years.

EXPRESS CLERK GETS SURPRISE OF HIS LIFE
"I Believe I Could Eat All Day Long, Since This Great Medicine, Karnak, Fixed Up My Digestion," Says Horace Stanley.

Statement after state ment is now being made all over Atlanta, each and every one proving beyond question that Karnak, the new medicine that is creating such a sensation here, is without a doubt the greatest thing of its kind ever seen.

Now comes Horace W. Stanley, 65 Astor Ave., a popular American Railway Express Clerk, who declares that although he had about given up hope of getting relief from his stomach trouble, this new medicine had him in remembrance again in no time.

He says: "I don't mind telling anybody what Karnak has done for me because I certainly owe a lot to this medicine. I was all run-down for months. Seemed to get tired doing the least little work. My appetite was way off. I didn't care whether I ate or not. And lots of times I wouldn't even sit down to the table."

"I always had a burning sensation in my stomach, a kind of heartburn, and then on top of that I had lumbago, or rheumatism. It would hit me all of a sudden in the hips or thighs, just like a cramp, and would stay with me for days at a time. The pain was so intense I could hardly get around. I tried everything, but had about given up all hope of getting relief. "Then along comes the news about Karnak, and I decided to give it a trial. Well, sir, I got the surprise of my life when I began to feel 100% better before I had taken the first bottle. You can bet I kept on taking Karnak and now I feel like a new man. I have in three years."

"My appetite is so good I can hardly wait for mealtime and I believe I could keep on eating all day long. I sleep fine all night and get up in the morning full of energy and ready for a hard day's work. I haven't had a rheumatic pain since I began taking Karnak, my digestion is perfect and I have gained six pounds already."

"My hat's off to Karnak and I will never stop praising it as long as I live."

Karnak is the fastest selling medicine on the market today. Over 500,000 bottles were sold in four states in ten months.

Karnak is sold in Atlanta exclusively by Jacobs Pharmacy; in Marietta by Hodges Drug Co.; in Decatur by Elkin Drug Co.; in East Point by Christian's Pharmacy, and by the leading druggists in every town. (Advertisement.)

Monks Brush Teeth And Fishes Flirt On Malay Peninsula

New York, April 3.—Fish that flirt and climb trees, monkeys that brush their teeth after every meal and birds that sleep upside down are a few of the animals described last night by Carver Wells, F. R. G. S. explorer, in a lecture reciting his six years of adventure in the jungles of the Malay Peninsula.

The tree-climbing fish comes out of the water to play on the beach. "When you tickle its tummy it swells up with air and bounces about for sheer happiness," said Mr. Wells.

Another funny freak is the flirting fish, the only swimming animal known to have a genuine wink. This coquettish creature is known as the Periophthalmus Schlosseri, which is Greek for "eye winker."

Mr. Wells told of a live teddy bear, 15 inches high and looking, when full grown, precisely like the toy.

Even smaller is the vest pocket deer, which measured seven inches from hoof to horn.

There is a lizard that slips off its tail at will.

There is a plant so sensitive that it flattens itself against the ground when one stamps near it, but yet so strong that it resists the fiercest typhoons.

There is the hygienic monkey, so careful of his health that after every meal and before going to bed at night he repairs to the nearest stream and brushes his teeth with the aid of the best finest of his right hand.

There is the bird which sleeps upside down.

"But then," Mr. Wells concluded, "everything is upside down in the Malay jungles."

Richardson Stars as Bulldogs Beat Auburn

Georgians Pile Up Lead In 1st Frame for 5-2 Win; Tulley Hurls for Victors

BY EMMETT SIZEMORE.

Auburn, Ala., April 3.—(Special.)—The Georgia Bulldogs, staging a fine exhibition of fielding and timely hitting, won a 5-to-2 decision over the Auburn Plainsmen diamond outfit Friday afternoon, in the first of a two-game series being staged on the Auburn campus this week-end.

The first inning proved to be the bountiful frame as far as counting was concerned for both teams. The Georgians were the first to take the offensive with the sticks. Middlebrooks, lead-off man for the Bulldogs, got a free passport to first, being hit by a pitched ball. He got away to second on Sattlof's sacrifice and scored on a clean bingle by Richardson, Georgia's shortstop. Richardson went to second on a fielder's choice. At this early stage of the game Thomas stepped up to the plate and poled out a home run with a long drive to left field, scoring Richardson and leaving Georgia's counters to three. Moore was stopped at first and Frain struck out. The Auburnites had their banner inning in the first, despite the tough lead already accumulated by the visitors. Stewart, first Auburn batter to face Tulley, went to first on balls. He was safe at second when Allen gave Middlebrooks one too hot to handle. Stewart scored on Wallis' single and Allen went to third. Allen tagged upon Griffin's long one to center and scored Auburn's second tally. In this inning Georgia had totaled two hits and three runs while Auburn came in with one hit and two runs.

Georgia Scores In Third.

The second inning was uneventful, neither team getting a hit or run. In the third the white aggregation found its way for its fourth counter when Middlebrooks was walked, was sacrificed to second by Sattlof and scored on Richardson's single.

To bring in the fifth and last run Tulley, Georgia pitcher, was pressed into service on the circuit. Tulley got a safe one to first and made it to second on Middlebrooks' sacrifice. Sattlof popped out to Wallis, after which Tulley scored on Richardson's double. This incident which concluded the scoring of the afternoon, came in the fifth inning.

Auburn got away with good leads but was unable to find Tulley's legs in the pinches. Five Auburn batters were left on second base without the necessary credentials for a round-trip for score.

As to hitting, the two teams pulled through with a draw, each outfit finding the pill for five safe ones during the game.

The second game will be played Saturday afternoon. It is probable that Hines will face the Georgians from the mound, while Munday will likely appear in the pitcher's box for Georgia.

CHASE GETS ARIZONA CLUB

Douglas, Ariz., April 3.—Hal Chase, outlawed from organized baseball because of his alleged participation in the 1919 world series scandal, will pilot the Douglas baseball team in the Tri-State Cactus league this season, it was announced today.

The league includes, besides Douglas, the cities of El Paso, Juarez, Mex., and Fort Bayard, N. M.

TORONTO GETS CLEO CARLISLE

Detroit, April 3.—Johnny Walker and Bill Johnson, pitchers, and George Artus, catcher, have been released outright by Manager Cobb, of the Detroit Tigers. Cleo Carlisle, 19-year-old outfielder, was sent to the Toronto club of the International league on option. All four were recruits. No more will be dropped, it is thought, until after the Tigers return to Detroit.

"It's Great To Be In Atlanta Again"

You can tell by their expressions that they are glad to be here again. Miller Huggins subpoenaed them for his team of Yanks after their splendid showing with the Atlanta club last season. From left to right they are: Awtry, catcher; Ben Paschal, outfielder; and Ray Francis, southpaw hurler.

KEARNS HEADS FOR CALIFORNIA

New York, April 3.—After several hectic weeks in the east, Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, left Friday for California to discuss with the champion their plans for the summer. Kearns declared that he would be able to announce definitely what Dempsey has in mind for the next few months until after a conference with him. He admitted that he had several matters to discuss with the champion but declined to say whether he was considering any fight offers. Several days ago, Kearns declared that he had not received a single offer from eastern promoters for any fight and that he was willing to accept any suitable offers that might be made.

Mercer Nine Routs Hoosier Outfit by Score of 12 to 2

BY LEONARD WILLIAMS.

Macon, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—Indiana's Hoosier nine found it rough sledding against the Bear diamonds today, finally succumbing by a 12-to-2 score. The visitors sent two hurlers to the mound, neither being able to stem the Orange and Black Tide, which swept 15 safe hits into the Hoosier fields. On the other hand, the Bear pitchers were able to hold the delivery of Hamilton, Mercer's pitcher.

Link, of Indiana, began hurling activities for the northern team, but at no time was he able to hold the localists. Although he walked only one Bear in his six innings, his offerings proved anything but a puzzle to the Bruin batsmen. In the seventh, after he had given up 13 hits, Hord was sent to the box, and he was unable to do much better.

Both outfits chalked up four errors. Hall, Indiana short, however, was charged the full quartet of his nine's blunders, for he was unable to hold the grounders the Mercers peppered his way.

The seventh inning was a veritable Hoosier Waterloo. Eight Bear players crossed the home plate in this period, by a triple, a double, a trio of singles, three errors and one base on balls. This round became monotonous before the Indians pulled themselves together and brought the melee to a close.

Errors Score Hoosiers. To Niners, visiting right fielder, and Druckamiller, third-sacker, goes credit for the Hoosiers' only runs, these being secured on errors of the Mercer team.

"Crook" Smith and Bobby Pinkston led the attack of the Bruins with three safeties out of four attempts. "Red" Adams, of the Bears, pounded out a triple and a double for his share of the extra base knocks, and also was credited with a single for his five trips to the platter. Indiana and Mercer are to clash again Saturday. Today's win gives the Baptists the sixth collegiate victory.

out of seven games in the season. A rest will be taken by the Bears during the first part of next week, but Friday and Saturday will see a Macon invasion from the Georgia Bulldogs.

Boys' High Wins 12-Inning Pitchers' Duel From Marist; Bluebirds Get Out of Rut

BY GORDON KEITH.

G. M. A. and Tech High are leading the prep league race at the end of the first week's play by virtue of victories Friday over Decatur and Commercial High, while Boys' High pulled its average up to 500 by taking a great pitchers' duel from Marist that went 12 innings, and the University Bluebirds managed to get out of the rut and win a baseball game, defeating the touted Petrel freshmen in the ninth inning at Piedmont Park.

Since the G. M. A.-Decatur game was of importance in settling first place positions, the game in Decatur was the feature. The Cadets adhered to their policy used in defeating the Hurricane Tuesday, that of coming from behind to overcome a lead and win in the last inning or two. Walker and Weatherley put up two splendid exhibitions of pitching baseball, with the latter finally winning when the home club's hurler weakened in the eighth and ninth and lost the game when his support failed him.

Decatur outlit the Cadets 8-6 but by making costly errors with men on bases threw away its advantage. The Cadets scored the winning runs in the ninth, after Decatur had led throughout the game, when O'Neil and Eaton singled in order, and both scored when Anderson, Decatur's grounder get through him. Murdock and O'Neil shared batting honors, both men getting three out of four.

Mathews, Decatur catcher, got the only double of the game. Walker struck out 11 men and Weatherley retired 10 by the same method.

Score by innings: R. H. E. G. M. A. 000 010 002 4 4 3. Decatur 8 02 000 000 3 8 2. Batteries: For G. M. A.: Weatherley and Mathews; for Decatur, Walker and Lyle.

Hurricane's First Win. It took the Boys' High baseball club 12 innings to put over the winning runs, against Coach Dean's plucky Marist team over on Ivy street Friday when Fee showed that he was quite a pitcher and held the Hurricane batsmen to eight hits in the dozen frames.

The Purple used two hurlers to hold the home club in check. Smith working the first eight innings and being relieved by Winn when Marist went on a scoring rampage.

With the score at four and four in the twelfth, Boys' High put across the two runs that won the Hurricane's first game. Smith walked, and took second on a fielder's choice. He stole third and came home on Hall's error, when caught in a trap between third and the plate. McLesky was safe on a fielder's choice, stole second, took third when Smith was caught in the trap, and scored on Winn's single.

Score by innings: R. H. E. B. H. S. 012 100 000 002 6 8 4. Marist 001 000 030 4 6 5. Batteries: For Boys' High: Smith, Winn and Boland; for Marist: Fee and Hale.

Smithies Score 30 Runs. Tech High brought a run scored total up to 50 in the two games played in the league this week, adding 30.

The Freshmen started out in their customary manner and pushed a run across in the first inning, but Green frightened and kept the visitors under control for the remaining eight innings.

The Bluebirds scored once in the fourth, and broke the tie in the ninth when Freeman, youthful first sacker, scored on York's error.

Freeman was the batting star for the Bluebirds, getting two out of two. Buchanan did the best work with the big stick for the Freshmen, getting two out of four. Hamm, Bluebird outfielder, got the only extra base clout of the game, a double.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Oglethorpe 100 000 000—1 5 0. University 000 100 001—2 6 0. Batteries: For Freshmen: York and Minihinit; for University: Green and Speaks.

Jackets Whip Green by Flashy Play in Ninth

Tech Beats Dartmouth, 7-5, By Cutting Down Two Runs At Plate After Three Errors

BY MACK THARPE.

Brilliant fielding by the Jackets in the ninth inning with the bases full and no one down saved Tech from defeat at the hands of Jeff Tesreau's Big Green team yesterday. Tech managed to hold its early lead and won, 7 to 5.

Things looked pretty scary for the Jackets in the final frame and it looked as though the visitors were going to win the first game of the series despite the Jackets' slugging in the early stages of the fray.

Kid Clay's men started off the ninth with a two-run lead and every indication pointed toward a victory as they had been playing errorless ball. Three blunders around the initial sack cost dearly and Dartmouth soon had three men resting on the bases. The Jackets seemed to be up in the air and in a fair way to throw away a game.

Runners Cut Down at Plate.

The fourth batter to face Sneed hit a hot one to Denicke who snapped the ball to Palmisano, cutting off Dickson at the plate. Things still looked bad, but when Bjorkman hit to Denicke and he made exactly the same play, prospects brightened. Two were away and the winning runs on base, however, Angley settled matters a few minutes later when he made a running catch of Harris' long fly.

The game started like a runaway affair for the Jackets, but tightened up as it progressed. The Jackets scored their first run in the second, after Doug Wycoff got on base by Stevens' error. He advanced to third while his teammates were making two outs and scored on Johnny Conn's hot ground out through second.

Four runs were scored in the third when the Jackets got a walk, two singles and a triple in a row. Merkle's triple to the center field wall came with two runners on base. Merkle scored a few minutes later on Palmisano's sacrifice fly to center.

Dartmouth came back strong in the fourth and scored a pair of runs on three hits. Bjorkman walked and scored on a long triple by Harris. This was one of the prettiest hits of the afternoon and would have resulted in a homer had not Jones started running back at the crack of the bat. Stanley's hot single through short scored Harris and a liner down the third base line advanced him to second. A brilliant shoestring catch by Gus Merkle ended this rally.

Sneed relieved Conn in the fifth with two men on base but was unable to stop the Big Green from scoring the two runners. A walk, a single, a balk and another single accounted for the Hanover boys' final tally in the seventh.

Wycoff again put the Jackets back into the lead in the fifth when he crushed one of Bjorkman's fast ones to deep center for four bases. It was even longer than Angley's homer in the Furman series and carried across the center track at the farthest joint from the plate. Merkle's second hit of the afternoon and Joe Palm's

Crackers Get Nick Cullop From Yanks for Center Field

Bert Niehoff today turns all his attention and both optics on the matter of selecting some pitchers to represent Atlanta in the Martin derby that opens in less than 10 days.

The only other question that bothered him until late yesterday was the matter of a centerfielder, who could hit .500 with his right wing to the plate and experienced in the game. That problem disappeared when it was announced by Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, here yesterday, that he would leave with Niehoff, Nick Cullop, home-run king of the Western league, who has been beaten out of a Yankee garden job by Ben Paschal, last year's home-run swatter with the Crackers.

Crackers Play Charlotte Sally League Club Today

The Atlanta Crackers, 32 in number, left Atlanta late yesterday afternoon for Charlotte, N. C., where the Charlotte club of the South Atlantic league will be played this afternoon.

Manager Niehoff and Wilbur Good did not make the trip to Charlotte and J. Carlisle Smith was designated by Manager Niehoff as manager in charge for one day. The players who made the trip are Smith, Zoller, Elmore, Kelli, Krehmer, Gazella, Murphy, Jenkins, Cashion, Slappey Kinnere and Thorburn. Joe Thorburn and Slappey will probably do the chinking for the Crackers with Jenkins on the receiving end.

After the game this afternoon the Crackers will return home and begin a final week of practice Monday morning preparation for the opening of the season Tuesday week in Chattanooga. Monday will be an off afternoon but morning practice will be held. Tuesday afternoon the Crackers and Ty Cobb and his Detroit Tigers will mix it for nine innings.

L. R. MANAGER SEES PLACE IN 1ST DIVISION

Little Rock, Ark., April 3.—Russell Blackburne, manager of Little Rock, in a pre-season forecast, has definitely promised to land the Travelers higher in the Southern association than was their fate last year.

"I'm not promising a pennant winner but I do promise a club that will finish in the first four," he said.

Manager Blackburne is pinning his faith on the club's advancement in his pitchers. The staff will be built around Babe Robinson, left-hander, and Ray Caldwell, right-hander. Other pitchers are Eddie McBee, who pitched good ball a few days ago last season; Johnny Sautina, purchased from Kansas City; Bill Perisette, from Milwaukee; Virgil Cheever, from Ellers, Lefty Winn and Jose Hernandez.

The infield is settled, says Blackburne. Tex Covington will play first, the manager will be at second, Hamilton is assured of the place at short and Philbin goes to third.

Ty Lober and Sam Green are assured of outfield assignments but the third place remains in doubt. There are many recruits seeking it but it is doubtful if any one of them can make the grade. Joe Cantillon, part owner of the club, is on a hunt for a hard hitter.

Another catcher will be brought on to add to the staff now composed of Frank Reiger and Joe Murphy.

PLANT BREAKS THREE-MILE RECORD

Ottawa, Ont., April 3.—Paavo Nurmi won the one mile and half international indoor race at the Ottawa police races here tonight. Jimmy Connelly, Georgetown university, was second and Lloyed Hahn, Boston college, was third. Nurmi's time was 6:56.

Willis Plant, American walking champion, set a three-mile record of 20 minutes 43 seconds. Phil Granville, Canadian champion and Ugo Frigerio, of Italy, Olympic 10,000-metre title holder, quit the race after walking half the distance. The previous record, 20 minutes 49 4-5 seconds, was made by George Goulding, of Canada, in Brooklyn, March 30, 1912.

Ben Paschal Scores Twice; Francis Drives in 2 Runs; Second Game Set for Today

BY JULIAN GRIFFIN

Some 4,000 cash customers turned out yesterday afternoon to see him and he came to bat one time and struck out, displayed mediocre fielding ability when Fournier doubled to right field, and retired from the game at the end of the second inning in favor of a Charlie horse in the neck.

Such was Babe Ruth's contribution to the 7-to-5 victory of the New York Yankees over the Brooklyn Dodgers at Spiller field. Miller Huggins assures us, however, that the Bambino will put in full time in this afternoon's repetition of the contest. It was also announced that Dazzy Vance would be on the mound for the Dodgers. So there it is—Babe Ruth batting against Dazzy Vance!

Ex-Cracker stars came through with flying colors yesterday. Ben Paschal relieved the afflicted Bambino at the beginning of the third inning, faced the pitcher three times, walked once, lifted a high one to left field and was safe on a fielder's choice once, scoring twice. He just had one chance in the outfield, which he handled nicely.

Francis Goes to Mound. Ray Francis, whose left arm was considered an asset in Cracker quotations last season, took up the mound duties of the Yankees in the sixth inning. In addition to this, he remained four frames. He gave up five hits, made a couple of Dodgers free passes. In addition to this, he came through with a neat single to left with the bases loaded in the seventh, scoring Pipp and Ward, and putting his team in the lead for the first time of the afternoon.

Although the Bambino did not come through with one of the four-batters that have made him famous, the contest was not without circuit clouts. Johnston, Brooklyn right fielder, lifted a long one into the left field stands in the eighth, bringing Fournier home from first.

With reference to the Babe, he strutted his material in batting practice, leaning against one with all his giant power to send the ball sailing over the right field fence, breaking Roy Carlisle's monopoly on the feat. This happened before most of the fans arrived and did not count.

Infection In Neck. Ruth seems to experience tough sailing during exhibition tours. The other day he was complaining of a Charlie horse, which kept him from performing much. When the afore-said c. h. rode away, he developed some kind of an infection in the neck, the ailment that caused him to retire yesterday.

Ruth seemed to experience tough sailing during exhibition tours. The other day he was complaining of a Charlie horse, which kept him from performing much. When the afore-said c. h. rode away, he developed some kind of an infection in the neck, the ailment that caused him to retire yesterday.

The Dodgers took a lead in the initial inning yesterday. Mitchell singled down the third-base line, and went to second when Cox did identically the same thing. Fournier doubled to right to score Mitchell, Cox retiring the side.

No more scoring was done until the fifth, when Brooklyn put across two more. High led off with a single to center, but was forced at second when Mitchell was safe on a fielder's choice. Cox grounded out, advancing Mitchell, who scored when Fournier singled to right. Fournier took third on Brown's single and scored on a base knock by Johnston.

Johnston, by the way, was the shining light of the day at bat. Out of four times at bat he got a single, triple and home run.

The Yanks tied the count in the seventh, shoving across four counters. Combs, first man up, walked. Paschal followed and was likewise issued a free pass. Meusel popped to the catcher, but Pipp singled to center scoring Combs and Paschal. Pipp took third on Ward's single, Meusel flied out, but O'Neill walked, filling the bases. It was at this juncture that Francis came through with a safety that won the game for his side.

In the next inning the Dodgers scored two more on a single by Fournier and a home run by Johnston. But the Yanks made three in this frame, which closed the argument for the last time. Four hits, three singles and a double were converted in three runs, ending the scoring for the day.

Each side uncorked a double play during the afternoon. The double kill of the Dodgers was snapped from Petty to Mitchell to Fournier, while the Yanks retired two on a similar play, the ball going from Shanks to Ward to Pipp.

After the game the scribes went down to talk with Miller Huggins, boss of the Yankee crew, and found him to be a humorous and sarcastic little man, with plenty of pep and ginger. He said that Cullop, the outfielder he is lending the Crackers this year, would make a good man in this league, and be the very man Dan Michalove needs.

After the game the scribes asked him how about having Ben Paschal down here also.

"I'll give you some peanuts," he replied, holding out a recently purchased bag containing 22 goobers and displaying a broad grin, as he said that Paschal was a valuable man and he intends to play him on his own team this year. He also spoke highly of Francis.

"This is the worst ball park in the Southern league," he said with a merry look at Michalove and then went on to say that with the exception of Los Angeles and one or two other places, "it is the best park outside of the majors and better than many parks in the big leagues."

"I won't say we'll win a pennant this year, but the three clubs that will be at the top when it's over will be Detroit, Washington and the Yanks," Huggins said.

As he started to leave he cut in with: "I hope Dan Michalove finishes on the bottom this year. He grabbed Dan by the arm and they left town together."

SPILLER'S FIELD

BY SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

This brought the lecturer to the great ladder of animal life, beginning low down in molluscs and feeble sea creatures, then up rung by rung through reptiles and fishes, till at last we came to a kangaroo-rat, a creature which brought forth its young alive, the direct ancestor of all mammals, and the last rung on the ladder of life, the one on which we stood, from a sceptical student in the back row. If the young gentleman in the red tie who cried "No, no," and who, presumably claimed to have been hatched out of an egg, would wait upon him after the lecture, he would have been able to show him the evidence of the ladder of life, and that the climax of all the age-long process of Nature had been the creation of Having thus said a general filler, played very prettily with his interrupter, the lecturer went back to his picture of the past, the drying of the seas, the emergence of the sand-bank, the sluggish, viscous life which was upon it, the growth of the green algae, the tendency of the sea creatures to take refuge upon the mud-flats, the abundance of the molluscs, the consequent enormous growth. "Hence, ladies and gentlemen," he added, "that frightful brood of saurians which still affright our eyes when seen in the Wealden or in the Solenhofen slates, but which have long since become extinct long before the first appearance of mankind upon this planet."

"Question!" he boomed the voice once more.

Waldron looked with amazement along the line of professors on the platform until his eyes fell upon the figure of Challenger, who leaned back in his chair with closed eyes and an amused expression, as if he were smiling in his sleep.

"I see!" said Waldron, with a shrug. "It is my friend Professor Challenger," and amid laughter he renewed his lecture as if this was a final explanation and no more need be said.

Explanation and understanding was far from being closed. Whatever path the lecturer took amid the wilds of the past seemed invariably to lead him to some assertion as to extinct or prehistoric life which instantly brought the same bull's bellow from the professor. The audience began to anticipate, and to roar with delight when it came. The packed benches of students joined in, and every time Challenger's beard opened, before any sound could come forth, there was a yell of "Question!" from a hundred voices, and an answering counter cry of "Order!" and "Shame!" from as many more. Waldron, though a hardened lecturer and a strong man, became rattled, and in the midst of a repetition of a single phrase, he broke off in mid-sentence, and finally turned furiously upon the cause of his troubles.

"This is really intolerable!" he cried, glaring across the platform. "I must ask you, Professor Challenger, to cease these ignorant and unmannerly interruptions."

There was a hush over the hall, the students rigid with delight at seeing the high gods on Olympus quarreling among themselves. Challenger levered his bulky figure slowly out of his chair.

The words unloosed a tempest. "Shame! Shame!" "Give him a hearing!" "Put him out!" "Shove him off the platform!" "Fair play to the oppressed!" "The oppressed are not oppressed!" The chairman emerged from a general roar of protest and excitement. The chairman turned to the speaker, clapping both his hands and bleating excitedly. "Professor Challenger—personal views—later," were the solid peaks above his clouds of inaudible mutter. The interrupter bowed, smiled, stroked his beard, and relapsed into his chair. Waldron, very flushed and warlike, turned to the speaker, and, with a look of intense indignation, asserted, he shot a venomous glance at his opponent, who seemed to be slumbering deeply, with the same broad, happy smile upon his face.
